

Simon Ore – Big Beat Entertainment

Simon has a strong understanding of music and has established himself as a fun, high energy entertainer and vocalist.

He has been performing on stage from a young tender age and then studied music as a guitarist for years. Over the years he has performed for probably every occasion from holiday parks, to pubs & even a Christmas light switch on.

Simon has an extremely wide musical taste and knowledge and like to put this into his shows. You can be assured there will be something from every decade and most likely your favourite music genre.

His passion is Rock "n" Roll and as well as his popular general covers show he can do a specific Rock "n" Roll show – great if you want to dust of your drapes. He is also available as a Shakin' Stevens tribute act.
